In the aftermath of the Cambodian genocide, one woman's journey through love, loss, and redemption is a testament to the resilience of the human spirit.

Ly Tong was just a child when the Khmer Rouge came to power in Cambodia. In the years that followed, she would witness the deaths of her family and friends, and endure unimaginable hardships. But through it all, she never lost hope.

In this powerful and moving memoir, Ly Tong tells the story of her survival and redemption. She writes about the love she found in the darkest of times, and the loss she has endured. But most of all, she writes about the hope that has sustained her throughout her life.

Love and Loss in Cambodia is a story of resilience, hope, and redemption. It is a story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
